

InvestmentPitch.com launches new corporate presentations for Kent Explorations and Conquest Resources

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (Business Wire) – July 13, 2009 – IPE InvestmentPitch Enterprises Ltd (www.InvestmentPitch.com) launches a new service for small and mid-cap companies looking to increase their exposure in the investment community.

InvestmentPitch.com has been making a name for itself video capturing presentations at investment trade shows and conferences such as the Small Cap Conference Series, Mid-Canada Investment Forum, Financial Forum, Kamloops Exploration Group, and Cambridge House's SaskRocks conference. Each presentation is professionally edited, together with the company's PowerPoint, with the resulting product converted to a streaming video which is hosted on InvestmentPitch.com's investment portal.

This service has been lauded, both by the conference organizer and the presenting companies. Kingsman Resources' (KSM – TSX.V) Ted Ohashi states that the resulting product is better than the live presentation given at the convention. Tough economic times are forcing many companies to cut back on their marketing and advertising budgets. As a cost effective alternative to attending conferences, InvestmentPitch.com is offering a new service whereby it will video capture a company's private presentation in front of a select group of investors and investment advisors either in InvestmentPitch.com's Vancouver office or at any other location.

The company has just posted two examples of this new streaming video product. They are available for viewing at Kent Exploration (KEX – TSX.V) and Conquest Resources (CQR – TSX.V), on the company's investment portal.

Kent Exploration Inc. is a mineral exploration company building a portfolio of properties highly prospective for precious metal mineralization and accompanying base metals, in the western United States, Western Canada, New Zealand and Australia as well as coal in Saskatchewan.

Conquest holds several advanced stage gold properties in Canada, including the strategically important Alexander Project, located in the heart of northwestern Ontario's Red Lake gold mining district.

"With companies challenged to cost effectively communicate their story, we feel there has never been a better time to deploy video communications", stated Joseph Nuyten, InvestmentPitch.com's President. "Having gone from zero to mass market globally in three short years, online video is the fastest-growing media platform in history".
