The InvestmentPitch.com Internet platform www.InvestmentPitch.com aggregates high quality corporate videos from public and private companies. In order to make the viewing process as easy as possible, the company converts the videos to a streaming format for viewing by the investment community. The site has an excellent search engine, which enables potential investors to locate companies that meet their desired investment criteria.

“We find these angel forums present one of the few opportunities for private companies to tell their stories to accredited investors. Our business model of utilizing rich media has proven so successful in assisting public companies get their story in front of potential investors that we’ve decided to expand our services to include private companies. We’re now accepting video content from private companies which will be made available only to accredited investors. We feel this will greatly expand the opportunity for these smaller companies to attract capital beyond their current geographical limitations”, stated InvestmentPitch President Joseph Nuyten.

InvestmentPitch also captures presentations at various investment conferences. Bill Graham, President of RIFCO Inc (RFC – TSX.V) said of this service, “In light of the current state of the stock market, finding value for your investor relations dollar is harder than ever. We believe that RIFCO needs to tell its story in good & bad times. Right now we are in bad times and finding ears to listen is a challenge for every public company. InvestmentPitch.com recorded our presentation at a Small-Cap Conference and it has been posted for two weeks and viewed over 500 times. Many have commented to us how much they appreciate this medium. We have never been able to touch our audience so effectively at such a reasonable cost.”

To those unable to attend the recent Small-Cap Investment Conferences in Calgary and Vancouver, and the Mid-Canada Investment Conference in Winnipeg, the company invites investors to www.InvestmentPitch.com to view the thirty corporate videos presentations captured at these conferences.

Private companies looking to go public in Canada will find it beneficial to view the keynote presentation by Canadian National Stock Exchange CEO, Ian Bandeen at: http://www.investmentpitch.com/media/442/Canadian_National_Stock_Exchange/
